

Notification – Central Station

6 July 2023

Sydney Metro is Australia's biggest public transport project.

Services started in May 2019 in the city's North West with a train every four minutes in the peak. Metro rail will be extended into the CBD and beyond to Bankstown in 2024 with new CBD metro railway stations at Martin Place, Pitt Street and Barangaroo and new metro platforms at Central. By 2030, Sydney will have four metro lines, with 46 stations and 113 kilometres of new metro rail.

Laing O'Rourke is delivering the new Sydney Metro platforms under Central Station as well as the landmark Central Walk - a new underground pedestrian concourse to help customers get around Sydney's busiest railway station.

Upcoming out of hours work at Central Station

From midday Friday, 14 July, to 7am Monday, 17 July 2023 (around the clock), work will take place at the southern end of Platform 1, to remove the temporary office accommodation that has been used by Sydney Trains staff during Sydney Metro construction works.

What to expect

- To enable the set up and use of a mobile crane, there will be no public access to the 18, 20 and 26 Lee Street car parks or the driveway from midday Friday, 14 July, to 7am Monday, 17 July 2023.
- The demountable office buildings will be pulled into position and lifted onto trucks to be removed from the area, which may create noise at times.
- An area of the bus depot will also be used during this period for truck and material laydown.
- Machinery used during this work will include a mobile crane, trucks and construction vehicles, hand and power tools.
- Traffic control and directional signage will be in place for the safety of workers and the community.

We appreciate that you may be affected by some noise coming from Central Station construction work as well as other project construction activities. The construction team has made every effort to minimise noise and has planned work during standard construction hours where possible.

Thank you for your patience while we undertake these necessary works.
