Non-compliance and incident details

OOH works were undertaken at Waterloo on the night of 31/10/17 under an approved OOHW application. However, a redesign necessitated some jackhammering and saw cutting, which were not included in the approved OOHW application and therefore constitute a non-conformance with the approved noise and vibration management documents. A noise complaint was received on 1 November relating to this work and JHCPBG reported that the work crew will be tool-boxed on change management and noted that the OOH application will be updated to address the full extent of work required for future planned night works.
